Employment Verification

Verifying past employment offers valuable insights into a candidate's professional background, skill set, and overall reliability—empowering you to make more informed hiring decisions.

Speed & Accuracy You Can Trust

Our platform streamlines the employment verification process by collecting and analyzing a candidate's job history. Our experienced team works directly with HR or Payroll departments to confirm key employment details, ensuring accurate, verified results with industry-leading turnaround times.

Protect Your Brand & Minimize Hiring Risk

Hiring candidates with unverified employment histories can expose your organization to unnecessary risk, including performance issues, compliance violations, and reputational harm.

Build a Complete Candidate Profile

Employment verifications are even more powerful when combined with eReferences and Credit Reports. Cross-referencing multiple data points allows you to build a comprehensive view of a candidate's background, enhancing both risk mitigation and hiring confidence.

Critical Details, Verified Directly

- Dates of employment
- Positions held
- Reason for departure
- Eligibility for rehire

This process helps uncover employment gaps or discrepancies, providing the clarity and confidence your hiring team needs.
